In the journey of growing up- children encounter challenges that share their attitudes and future. Guiding and coaching them is fostering an environment where they can thrive mentally, emotionally and physically. Helping them to become confident, capable individuals to be equipped the complexities of life.

Hello Im Janice,I started my teaching career in June 2013 at Village School of Parkwoods. I handle Nursery, Kinder and Grade 4 pupils. It is very challenging for me because it is my first time teaching Reading and Language. Guiding small kids helps me to reflect on myself to be a good model and teaches me to accept responsibility to guide them to help each other also.

I didn't expect that this is the first step to being a proficient teacher in High School which is in Justice Cecilia Munoz Palma High School. A public School in Quezon City and became the reading coordinator of the School. I didn't expect that there would be many students in Grade 7 who are struggling and Non-Readers and having bad temper learners. Being a Reading Coor, I'm the one who leads, guides, and teaches them in reading and counseling their bad behavior.

Many years by, I decided also to have a Summer Community Reading in my Little House, I felt overwhelmed when I saw children who wanted to learn to read.

Guiding Children

Guidance in childhood serves as a navigational tool that helps children make sense of their experiences and decisions. Effective guidance provides a framework within which children can explore their interests, develop their talents, and understand their values.

Teaching Children

Teaching, in its broadest sense, encompasses the transfer of knowledge, skills, and values. It is fundamental to child development, as it shapes their intellectual growth and prepares them for future success. Teaching goes beyond academic instruction to include life skills, ethical values, and social norms. Through effective teaching, children acquire the cognitive abilities necessary for learning and problem-solving, while also developing emotional intelligence and social competencies.

Educational environments, whether at home or in schools, provide children with the knowledge they need to understand the world around them. Teachers and caregivers play a vital role in delivering content, fostering curiosity, and encouraging a love for learning. By using diverse teaching methods, they cater to different learning styles and needs, ensuring that each child has the opportunity to succeed. Additionally, teaching helps children develop critical thinking skills and the ability to apply knowledge in various contexts, which is essential for personal and academic growth.

In conclusion, coaching and guiding children is a profound responsibility that involves nurturing their potential, fostering a supportive environment, and instilling values that will shape their future. Through patience, encouragement, and understanding, we play a pivotal role in helping children grow into well-rounded individuals ready to face the world with confidence and grace.
