“Education is the most powerful weapon you can use to change the world.” —B.B. King

I started my teaching career in September 1997, immediately after I went out the seminary. I was accepted as a Faculty of a Catholic School, Sto. Nino Parochial School. I was asked to handle Christian Living Subjects, Music Class and became the Musical Director of their Children’s Choir. Because of my background as a former Seminarian, I was asked also to handle the spiritual formation of the graduating class, giving them recollections and retreats.

In the year 2004, after gaining enough experience in the field of teaching younger students, I applied as a College Instructor at Our Lady of Fatima University, teaching Social Science and Philosophy. For sixteen years (16), I have guided the young people in the university not only as an academic professor, but also I have been appointed as spiritual adviser of the Youth for Christ – Fatima, a campus based evangelization of Young Christians, giving them spiritual guidance and Lectures on Christian Formation.

This advocacy aims to enable young people to discover their original design and purpose – an identity anchored on human dignity, love and truth. Through this recognition, one can fully experience the freedom of the mind, body, and heart while living life to the full. It aims to re-introduce freedom as an instrument to manifest love, joy, human dignity, and all good things – sticking to our purpose and design of being true, good, and beautiful. 100% Free is moved to rise up and help young people empower one another to see beyond and reclaim the true meaning of freedom in their lives.
